Attached is a composite drawing of the person who purchased the vehicle in August of 1994 which was utilized to rob the Nebraska State Bank on 8/3/94. It is possible that this individual is identical to one of the two bank robbers and only appears to be different because of their disguises. It has generally been our opinion, however, that this person was not the same as either of the bank robbers. It is therefore suggested that this composite be shown to [redacted] and [redacted] to determine whether either is able to identify this person.

Administrative: Re conversation between SSRA [REDACTED] and SA [REDACTED] on 12/22/1995.

Details: Louisville investigation at the COVINGTON POLICE DEPARTMENT, Covington, Kentucky, determined through Officer [REDACTED] Traffic Control Division, that parking tickets written by Covington police officers are turned over to the city's Finance Department at telephone (606) 292-2181. Contact with [REDACTED] of the Finance Department revealed that although they are the depository for the parking tickets, information from the tickets can only be retrieved by entering in the vehicle's license plate number or the driver's name. She advised vehicle identification checks cannot be requested by entering the state only.

Sergeant [REDACTED] NEWPORT POLICE DEPARTMENT, advised that her computer system will allow the retrieval of parking tickets by state. She advised that there were no parking tickets issued for the State of Kansas nor for the State of Nebraska.

Mr. [redacted] Cincinnati, Ohio 45202, telephone [redacted], was contacted by an Agent of the FBI concerning his knowledge of the current whereabouts of Peter Kevin McGregor Langan. [redacted] advised as follows:

b6
b7C

Peter Langan [redacted] he hasn't seen him since he was released from the Hamilton County Justice Center about one and a half years ago [redacted]

[redacted] who resided at the time on [redacted] Cincinnati, Ohio. He does not know how to contact Langan. He surmises that [redacted] may know, as they seemed close. He also spoke about [redacted] one of whom was in the military. [redacted] stated that the only other person he knows of who may know how to locate Langan is a guy Langan was in the Justice Center with. That person is [redacted]. The two of them are politically oriented the same way, particularly as it pertains to the second amendment rights of the individual. He stated there was a [redacted] who may know, but he doubts it because the last time he saw her, she was very upset with Langan for [redacted].

b7C

[redacted] stated his "take" on Langan was that Peter Langan is a strange little guy with a definite extreme right of center approach to life. Langan once told [redacted] that he never intended to harm any law enforcement officer. Peter Langan was a collector of firearms, but the firearms he collected were not collectors items. They were, rather, semi-automatic, high magazine capacity pistols and rifles.

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that if Langan, for some reason, contacted him again, he would attempt to get him to turn himself in to the FBI. He also stated that if that unlikely event occurred, he would tell the FBI of that contact.

After the interview of PETER K. LANGAN by SA's [redacted] and [redacted] was concluded, SA [redacted] was sitting in an interview room with LANGAN at the Franklin County Sheriff's Office. LANGAN was talking openly about his past to SA [redacted] and made the following statements.

LANGAN stated that he had been in shootouts before today. The first time was when he was fifteen years old during an arrest in Florida. He was shot in the hand which had caused permanent injury to a one of his knuckles. LANGAN showed SA [redacted] his hand, pointing out the enlarged knuckle of the first finger. He also stated that he had been in other shootouts where he received no injuries.

Concerning his arrest earlier in the day, LANGAN stated that when he was down inside the van, bullets were coming through the van and he was hit in the face. He thought that this wound would kill him, and being the vain person he is, he didn't want his face to be scarred if he survived. LANGAN stated that for an instance he decided to raise up in the van and fire in the direction of the officers in order to put an end to his life. For a reason that he could not describe he didn't and then gave up to the officers.

[redacted] was contacted at [redacted]
[redacted] Columbus, Ohio, and after being advised of the identities of the interviewing agents and the nature of the interview, provided the following statement:

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that on Thursday morning, January 18,
1996, he was asleep [redacted]
[redacted] He added that [redacted] At approximately 10 A.M. he recalled being awakened [redacted] who was screaming that gunshots were being fired [redacted] He then [redacted] observed several law enforcement officers, dressed in FBI/ATF/Sheriff's office raid gear, removing the individual from the drivers seat of a van parked in the back of the residence. [redacted] opinion is that based on the fact there were approximately fifteen law enforcement officers around the individual, that more than necessary force was used to restrain him. When asked to give specific examples of the type of force he characterized as unnecessary, he declined to do so, stating he did not want to get involved. He estimated that his view of this arrest scene was limited to approximately three seconds because he was told by agents to get away [redacted] for his own safety.

Details: For information of the Bureau, Omaha is investigating 18 separate bank robberies that have occurred in the Midwest area of the United States. Since early 1994 two to three armed individuals have entered victim banks, brandishing semi-automatic weapons. After obtaining the bank robbery loot, an explosive device is left behind at the bank. With the last few bank robberies, a smoke grenade was ignited in the bank as the robbers made their getaway. Generally, the robbers purchase a getaway car 7-10 days prior to each robbery from either local used car lots or from private individuals. Each getaway car is purchased with cash, generally $100.00 bills.

LANGAN was advised of his constitutional rights in writing by allowing him to read aloud from an Advice of Rights and Waiver form. LANGAN read the form and waiver of rights, acknowledged his rights, indicating that he had been through this procedure in the past, but refused to sign the waiver form. LANGAN stated that he wanted to talk to an attorney but also stated that he wished to continue talking to the interviewing agents.

LANGAN voluntarily began to provide some information regarding his background, the shooting incident earlier in the morning and his political beliefs but was informed by SA [REDACTED] that the main concern and interest at that moment was a series of bank robberies in which he was a prime suspect.

b7C

LANGAN volunteered that, "There are things out there that should not be there," and stated that he would be willing to "give up something early as a show of good faith." After further brief discussion LANGAN further stated, "I'll give you my storage locker but I ain't gonna do it for free."

LANGAN asked if he could have a cup of coffee, a cigarette, and be able to make a call to [REDACTED] in order to tell her that he was alright. LANGAN was provided with a cup of coffee and a cigarette.

b6
b7C

SA [REDACTED] explained to LANGAN that it could be difficult to allow him to make a telephone call to an outside person, other than his attorney, while he was still in initial custody because he would be able to alert other individuals to either flee or to

I, Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Cincinnati, Ohio, provide the following information:

On December 9, 1995, following the robbery of Society Bank, 3515 Springdale Road, Cincinnati, Ohio, [REDACTED] was interviewed regarding her confrontation with the robber, described as a white male. [REDACTED] description of the robber is similar to the physical characteristics provided by other witnesses. This confrontation, occurring in the bank's parking lot, allowed her to observe the subject without facial disguise. Face to face (close proximity) conversation occurred between the subject and the witness, [REDACTED] during which he demanded money. On January 18, 1996, upon being displayed six portraits of white male individuals, [REDACTED] selected the photograph of Richard Lee Guthrie as being the individual who attempted to rob her during his hurried flight from the bank.

b7C

On January 15, 1996, Richard Lee Guthrie was arrested by FBI agents at Cincinnati, Ohio regarding other Federal charges. A comparison of a composite drawing of the individual responsible for the aforementioned bank robbery strongly resembles Richard Lee Guthrie to include his physical description. Guthrie, upon his arrest, was wearing clothing similar to that worn by the bank robber.

BANK ROBBERY (A)

ARMED & DANGEROUS

On January 15, 1996, Richard Lee Guthrie was arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, based on an outstanding Unlawful Flight to Avoid Prosecution (UFAP) warrant resulting from a 1992 Pizza Hut robbery in the state of Georgia.

On [redacted] based upon information obtained from [redacted] (protect identity), and the photograph of Guthrie taken after his January 15, 1996 arrest, the Cincinnati office began developing Guthrie as a suspect for the December 8, 1995 robbery of the Society National Bank, 3515 Springdale Road, Cincinnati, Ohio.

[redacted] On January 18, 1996, a consensual search of Guthrie's residence in Columbus, Ohio was executed. Found during the search were several [redacted]

The bank robber wore a grey hooded sweatshirt, and a pair of Nike tennis shoes. Several latent shoe prints were left by the robber as he vaulted over the counter. These were photographed by the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office, which supplied the photographs to this office. A grey hooded sweatshirt and a pair of Nike tennis shoes were found during the search of Guthrie's residence.

On December 8, 1995, soon after the bank robbery, the bank robber attempted, without success, to rob [redacted] as the robber fled from the bank. [redacted] described the robber in detail and observed him fleeing from the direction of the bank and carrying a white canvas bag. On January 18, 1996, [redacted] selected the photograph of Richard Lee Guthrie from a photo spread as being the individual that attempted to rob her.

b7C

Currently, all photographed and lifted latent fingerprints recovered from the robbery are being compared at the FBI laboratory with that of Richard Lee Guthrie. Clothing comparison as well as shoe print comparison will be initiated within the next several days.

On January 18, 1996, Lynn V. Hooe, Jr., United States Magistrate Judge, signed a criminal complaint and a warrant for arrest for Richard Lee Guthrie for bank robbery. Guthrie was already in custody at the Kenton County Jail in Covington, Kentucky.

On January 23, 1996, Guthrie was provided an initial appearance before U.S. Magistrate J. Gregory Wehrman. Guthrie was ordered held without bail and was scheduled for a removal hearing and a preliminary hearing. Representing Guthrie during the initial appearance was public defendant [redacted]

[redacted] Columbus, Ohio. After being advised of the identities of the interviewing agents and the nature of the interview, [redacted] provided the following statement:

[redacted] stated that on Thursday morning, January 18, 1996, while sleeping [redacted] she awoke to the sound of gunshots. She added it was approximately 9:30 A.M. when the shooting began [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] were also asleep in the apartment. After looking out the [redacted] window of her apartment she proceeded to the bathroom [redacted] of the dwelling. While peering out the bathroom window she witnessed an individual being removed from a van parked near the alley [redacted]

[redacted] She was unable to recognize this as a law enforcement arrest situation. She did not recall observing any of the participants involved wearing law enforcement raid gear. It was her opinion that the individual being removed from the van was being treated in a rough manner. She described this as including the individual being hit and kicked by those handling him. [redacted] was unable to elaborate with specificity regarding the hitting and kicking. She estimated that her view of the arrest scene was limited to a few seconds. She added that [redacted] and [redacted] were also in the bathroom looking out the same window with her. Almost immediately after appearing at the window she was directed to get away from the window.

At this point in the interview [redacted] indicated that she was extremely worried that by cooperating with the authorities she may be jeopardizing the safety of her children and herself. It was her belief that the associates of the individual who was arrested may try to harm her. She went on to harshly criticize the fact that she was not notified in advance by law enforcement authorities of the potentially life threatening activities being conducted [redacted]. She was very distressed that she was removed from her house at the time of the arrest and not allowed to return until the following morning, without provisions being made for her welfare.
